MNC Celebrates 10 Years of Success in Mapping & Data Management

Calgary, Alberta – The team at Martin Newby Consulting Ltd. is celebrating their 10-year anniversary. We are taking this opportunity to reflect on the achievements that have brought us to this significant point in our history.

In 10 years we have grown to an experienced team of over 35 surveying and mapping experts. Our client list has diversified from Alberta to include a range of clients in neighboring British Columbia and in the United States. With founding partner Wayne Newby moving on to new challenges in late 2007, we have rebranded our organization from Martin Newby Consulting to MNC.

MNC's decade of success exemplifies the strength of our people and teamwork in partnership with our clients. Our practical and professional approach to mapping and data management consistently delivers solutions and products to our clients to support their business needs.

MNC is a geomatics engineering firm specializing in spatial data management, cadastral and parcel digital mapping, geographical information systems (GIS), and data conversion. Our goal is to provide clients with practical and innovative data collection, mapping and GIS solutions.

We look forward to working with our clients – and developing new client relationships – for many more years to come.
